

The financial revolution in Africa: mobile payments services in a new global age

Developing the right supervisory framework in different economies: enabling new business models

Claire Alexandre

March 28, 2012

BILL & MELINDA
GATES foundation

From cash to electronic money: proximity, convenience, low cost & trust

RETIRER DE L'ARGENT

tchocho
MOBILE
Téléfon mobile, sa bourse mobile

Scotiabank Pour plus d'infos, appelez le 202. www.digiceltrinidad.com

Digicel
De la 4G, le meilleur réseau.

The billboard features a woman in a white top smiling and pointing at a mobile phone she is holding. Several banknotes are shown floating around the phone. The background is a blue sky with white clouds. The billboard is mounted on a pole and partially obscured by green trees in the foreground.

Creating space next to intermediation

- National regulatory frameworks
 - Adapt existing rules for financial services
 - Issue licenses to payment & e-money providers
 - Enable low value accounts through tiered KYC
 - Authorize distribution via third party

- At global level (FATF, BCBS, CPSS)
 - Existing standards are flexible enough
 - Provide guidance related to interpretation & implementation of standards to e-money and payment
 - Review mutual evaluation mechanisms and awareness of evaluators to financial inclusion

The Alliance for Financial Inclusion (AFI)

PEERS:

Financial services regulators

PLATFORM:

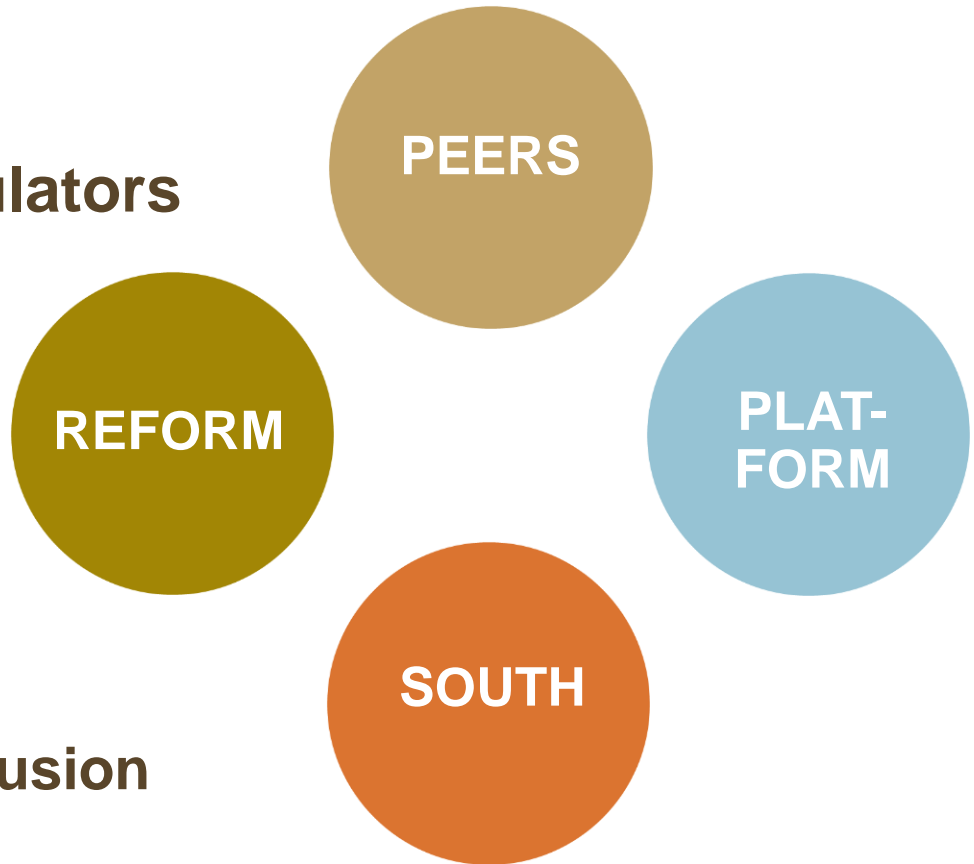

Knowledge exchange

SOUTH:

Source of innovations

REFORM:

To increase financial inclusion

Thank You

claire.alexandre@gatesfoundation.org

Some papers: <http://papers.ssrn.com> Author 1529372

The logo for the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, featuring the text "BILL & MELINDA GATES foundation" in a serif font, with "GATES" in a larger, bold font and "foundation" in a smaller, italicized font. The logo is set against a dark red square background.

BILL & MELINDA
GATES foundation